THE A. L. I. DEMONSTRATION LAST NIGHT. Alexandria before the war was noted for its erlanded military companies, and to day the Alexandria Riflemen, Captata Mer on Mary ; Old Domision Riflessen, Captain Arthur Herbert; Mount Vernon Guards, Captain Samuel II. Devauchat; Alexandria Artiflety, Captain Delaware Kemper; The Irish Guerus, C-prain James Towson; The O'Connell Guards, Capt. There are sleeping in honored graver, having oftered up their lives as a sacrific to a cau e they considered second, are remembered with 1 e. lags of pride. The war came on, and then foll lowed four years of heroic devotion, but the four years of untold sufferings crushed the martial spirit of the people of the South, and Alexandria, the border city of the State, once the soul of military enthusiasm, was without a Foldier company until two years ago, when, on the second day of July, 1878, the Alexandria Light Infantry, now the price of the city, flough the extrious of Captain Fraccis Smith and others, was organized .-A few short months ago it entered into the heads and hearts of the members to place the company on a more lawing basis, and in order to do this the idea was conceived to build no armory, as a permanent home. A building committee was appointed, the members of which went to work in conjunction with the members of the command. See the result-an elegant brick building new standing on Royal street, between Prince and Dake, an ornament to the city and a monument to the generosity of the cit z ns. The seating capacity of the hall is about 700. In the northwest corner is the ordearce room, where were stacked last night sixty breech leading Springfield rifler, and in the touthwest corher is a large committee room. At the castern end of the hall is a stage, 30 by 25 feet. Oa the outside front wall is a marble tablet, tra-sented by Mr. James H. Neale, a member of the company, bearing the date of the organiza tion of the command, and the names of Barjemin F. Price, architect, and Wm. F. Vincent, builder. John Hayoos did the brick work, 10. Stanton the ges fi tior, and Edward Lamb, of the National Theatre, Washington, is now engaged in painting the pleted the building will east about $4,000 It was in this building the members of the Alexandria Light Infantry assembled in [u] force last night to celebrate the second apple versary of the organization of the command. A business meeting was first held, at which a libe commissioned efficis, in recordance with the requirements of the constitution of the Order'y Sergeant Aleck McBurrry was called to the chair, and the following officers were

The executive, committee after two bailetings, was chosen as follows: J. M. White, George S. Smith, George O. Monroe, J. T. Sweeney, T. W. Robinson and J. D. H. Lunt. Licutenant George McBarney, having assumed the chair, on behalf of Dr. Julius Dienelt, presented the company with two splendid ergravings-one General Robert E. Lie and the other General Stonewall Jackson. The presen's were accompanied by a letter, expressing the well wishes of the donor, for the continued succres of the company, and the hope that others may be incited to follow his example so that before long the walls of the armory will be adorned with pictures of those whose lives are worthy of immitation.

Judge Chas. E. Stuart, was then introduced to the audience. He delivered a short and elequent address, which was received with much applause. He said he was proud to be the first to speak in the new armory, and congratulated the company, the members of which had always shown themselves second to none in point of discipline or organizatior. The company had done well in refusing to accept the resignation of the first officer. It was a compliment that he, Captain F. L. Smith, deserved, for none had done more than he to a-sist in the crgazization and support of the command.

Mr. Elgar Snowden being called for made a brief congratulatory specch. The company and invited sursts then partook of a bountiful repast which had been spread for the occasion, and in the preparation of which the liquids had not been neglected. The bat quot over the wildest enthusiasm provailed; all present were in a good humor, and the splendid music of the Alexandria Musical Association sat everybody to dateing. A scane of merriment was presented that has never, and, well, hardly ever, before been equaled, continuing until about 10:30 when the command went forth to fall in. The order was promptly obeyed and the company, under command of Lieuterast McBainay marched to the residence of Capt. Smith, tellowed by the askward equad of invited guests marshaled by Capt. A. T. Ramsay. Capt. Swith was absent, in Washington, but Mayor Swith responded for him in a short and appropriste speech.

Judge Staart was again called for. He responded in a few remarks, at the conclusion of which he called for three obeers for Hancock and English, which were given by the crowd with a hearty good will. Three obeers followed for Mayor Smith.

The line wes then refer med, and the crowd returned to the armory, where music, frolic and fun continued until after 11 o'cl ex, when the crowd dispersed. Thus ended the gala

Gen Grant

KANSAS CITY, Mo. July 3 - Gev. Grant was met yesterday at Marriam Park by about 15,000 people. In his speech he said: It has been my effort in the positions I have held to render the very best service in my power for the whole people without respect to rece, color, previous condition or pelitical affiliation. | Great applause. I am not aware of having committed an act in my life or saying a word which has injured my own standing one way or the other and certainly not in a political way. I have indeed belonged to one of the greatest political parties of the country because on the whole I believe it much nearer right than the other. [Applause.] But I caim to have as much good feeling and friendship for the party 23 days opposed to me as to the party which has here-tofore conferred honors upon me. I have always believed that what was best for the entire country was going to help both political parties in the end; for we are citizens in common of one great nation and the greatest nation that the sun thines upon to-day.

Turkey. LONDON, Ju'y 3 -A dispatch from Constantinople to the Times says: "The excitement among the Mussulmans is producing anxiety and apprehension in the European quarters of the city, but is may be emfidently predicted that they will not move unless instigated by the authorities. As the latter know well that any serious disturbances in the expital would immer diately produce activa European intervention, it is haid'y conceivable that they would voluntarily enter upon such a line of action; still there is a certain amount of danger. The government evidently wished to frighten Europe, and it may by using means for this purpose bring about inadvertently some unforeseen catastropio.

In Memoriam.

Gently fe'll asleep on the morning of June 23th, at half past three o'clock, ROBERTUALD-WELL YOUNG, in the 86th year of his age. Slowly the ravages of age and disease had made their insidious inroads upon his vigorous frame; and now the once busy eye is c'osed in death, and the once tuneful tongue is silent forever.

Generous and noble by nature, he had learned as he passed life's mile-posts on his peaceful journey to that haven "where ain and sorrow enter never," to practise those virtues and lofty attributes which refine the character and embalm the memory imperishably.

A bereaved family and sympathizing friends attest his self-sacrificing devotion as a father and husband, and all who know him preciaim his li conc of uprightness and honor. Having lived a long life without reproach, death had no terror for him, and when the end came, when that God whom he revered called bim hence, calmly his life's tide ebbed out, and so peacefully did his spirit forsake its tonement of clay, that those who had gathered about his bedside almost thought that he had fallen into a tweet repose. "Without a sigh, or groan, or parting pang, The spirit from him passed, And they who watched him nearest Could not tell the very instant."

A smile lit his face as death bade him go, and his last farewell on earth was exchanged for a welcome in Heaven. "It did not seem like death, but as a child sinks to sleep on the bosom of its mother, so did he sweetly fall asleep, and waiting angels bore his spirit to its heavenly rost."

Let us draw the curtains softly with the assurance that the guardianship of the God of the afflicted will be a consolation to his bereaved family, and His consolation their support. D.
